By EDWARD W. COCHRANE.

While America's leading boxing promoters are busy hurling offers at the king pins of the various division of pugilism, which offers seem to fall on deaf ears, due largely to the fact that most of the champions would rather rest than do battle in the hermit circle, the lesser lights of fistdom are a rather busy set of individuals, as the program of bouts for this week will show.

Just now chief interest in this popular sport is centered in the possibility of Jack Dempsey returning to the ring shortly to defend his half-a-dozen challengers, the most worthy of whom appears to be Harry Wills, the New Orleans black, who is taken rather seriously by the champion himself.

Weinert Won't Do

The New York commission's action in threatening to take the title away from Joe Frazier, and the fact that certain men in defense of their laurels, show how inactive the king pins of the glove-wielding pastime have become. And the worst part of this is that they are not without worthy foes—not even the man who stands alone as the greatest of all heavyweight champions.

If it were not for the fact that he has proved a false alarm on several occasions when he comes along to be on his way to the top of the ladder, Charlie Weinert's claims to fight with Georges Carpenter, light-heavyweight champion, might be taken a bit seriously, but Weinert lacks a whole lot of being the sort of a challenger that the public cares to shower with consideration.

Malone Meets Karr.

The Adonis from Newark will enter the circle this week to battle Martin Burke in New Orleans. Burke is a rather tough bird, who can take a lacing and can fight well enough to make a good argument for the opposition. But if Weinert cannot defeat him he has no cause to hurl a challenge at Carpenter or Grib. Burke would be fairly easy for either man.

Jack Malone, who was credited with a win over Harry Downey a short time ago, is to meet Johnny Karr, a tough youngster, in Columbus for 10 rounds. Malone, properly handled, might have gained the top rung of the middleweight ladder, but he still has a chance because he is no boxer classed as a veteran fighter. But he must decisively defeat such men as Karr to realize any such ambition.

Smith's Chance to Clash.

Midget Smith of New York, who has bantamweight championship aspirations, will nob pack into the ring in Aurora Friday night to meet Sammy Mandel of Chicago for 10 sessions. Smith is a very high-class boxer and was considered a very likely candidate for the championship a short time ago. He is still competing in the trial of every champion for the past three years but hasn't been able to set such an important engagement. He will have to defeat Mandel decisively to remain in the list of formidable foes for Joe Lynch, new champion, because Mandel looks quite a bit of being in that class.

Billy Britton, who again gained considerable fame by a victory over Harry Krohn in Zanesville, July 10, will meet Ed Warner for 10 rounds in Columbia, Kan., Thursday night. Britton and Warner have fought before and put up good scrapes. The American Legion of the southern Kansas mining town is likely to draw a big crowd out to see the favorite son perform. This is the first time Britton has appeared in his home city.

Harry Thorpe will meet Coway Parker in Wichita. These veterans aren't about the same today and they should put on a bout that is worth while. Thorpe is the harder puncher of the two, but the tough, mauling cowpuncher from Colorado is likely to present a very good argument to the boilermaker.

Toledo Boat Wins.

TOLEDO, July 15.—Outgeneraling and outalling her most dangerous rival, the Belle, of the Edison Boat Club, Detroit, Rudolph Lautt's eat house, the helm of the Toledo Yacht Club, won the final race of the intercity cat boat regatta on Maumee Bay today. Old Sam of the New York City cup defender was second and the Belle finished third in today's race. Time for the six miles was 10:48:17.

New Preacher on Job.

Special to The World.

VINITA, July 15.—Rev. Virgil B. Mayne and wife have arrived here from California, and the pair will at once take up his work as special rural community organizer for the Congregational church. Rev. W. H. Timlinson, pastor of the local church, has been preparing the way for extended county work for the past two weeks.
